BIG DOG SAVES

Come Gives Alarm When Fire Sweeps Through Ninth

Carried to Street by Volunteer Rescuers.

Fire spread through the old Hotel Griffou, Nos. 19-21 West Ninth street, at 2 o'clock this morning, and the proprietor of the hotel, Oresto Giolito, his wife and three children, and twelve guests in the upper rooms of the house, were only rescued after they had breathed

There would have been loss of life in this old hotel, which a few years ago was called the only real Bohemian place left in New York, had it not been for a dog known as Caesar, a big collie with a white tip on his tail.

The Griffon is now known as the Hotel del Urope, it having changed its name when the Bohemian colony in Washington Square disbanded and Scratched at Doors.

Caesar was in front of Landlord Gloto's rooms on the second floor this morning, when a puff of smoke came up the stairs from the kitchen. Almost and the good old dog began scratching at his master's door.

The smoke had made Glolito stupid, and he was not aroused by the dog for a time. Then he heard a man on the street yelling. James Brady, a chauf-feur, of No. 130 West One Hundred and Forty-fourth street, was passing the house in his automobile, when he saw a puff of smoke. He managed to arouse the half awakened hotel proprietor to his danger.

Giolito, his wife and children, were got to the street, the woman and little ones almost unconscious from smoke. Mrs. Giolito and the children were taken to the Hotel Brevoort, but Giolito rushed back into the burning house to arouse his guests.

Carried to Street.

Otto Arnesen, a musician, and Adeal Seth, also a musician, were found helpess on the top floor. R. G. Everett, of No. 77 Washington Square, got them

D. A. White and his daughter, Miss Laura, who occupied rooms on the top floor, were both in bad shape before they were carried to the street. Anton Balatchiffe, an engineer, was found in the rear of the kitchen unconscious.

The other guests reached the street in scant attire but practically unhurt, e fire spread to the wine cellar, and barrels of liquor of old vintage were destroyed. The fire was put out after a loss to the building of $2,000. The wine was worth several times that amount.

This Fact - that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman - a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years.

The present Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, was for years under her direction, and has ever since her decease continued to advise women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty causes them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. Such questioning and examination is unnecessary. Without cost you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pink- Broadway Mammoth Automobile Exchange ham has to draw from it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Riker Sick-Room Supplies

Many stores have a policy of keeping their prices for sick-room supplies marked 'way up, because people buy them at an emergency time when they care but little what price they pay. This is a fair sample of the difference between RIKER'S and the ordinary policy. For 63 years we have been gaining and holding customers by selling sick-room supplies on the same narrow margin of profit that we sell everything else. And you who have bought Riker goods know they can't be excelled for quality.
